Debs Will Pay No Attention to Judge Jackson's Injunction—He Denounces It as Nothing More Than a Revolver Matter May Get Into Court.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Aug. 7.—Eugene V. Debs, who addressed the large miners' meeting on the Duquesne wharf Thursday night, left Friday for Turtle Creek, where he speaks Friday evening. Before leaving the city Mr. Debs denounced Judge Jackson, of West Virginia, for issuing an injunction restraining him from interfering in any way with the Monongah Coal or its employees. Mr. Debs said: "This injunction restrains me from walking on any of the public highways leading to the mines of the Monongah Coal and Coke Co. It is most sweeping, and none other can be compared to it. This injunction annihilates the right of peaceful assembly, and effectually suppresses free speech."

"If it is sustained, it sweeps away all constitutional safeguards and delivers us, bound hand and foot, to corporate capital. I hold the injunction and the judge who issued it in supreme contempt. If I have occasion to raise my voice in behalf of the famishing miners in Jackson's jurisdiction I propose to do so, or at least make the attempt, totally regardless of this infamous injunction. The force of the proceeding is that the injunction is issued by a judge. It ought to come direct from the coal operators, and at least hypocrisy would not intensify the infamy of the proceeding."

In reference to the charge that the deputies now on guard at Debs' mine were forcing the miners to work at the point of revolvers, President Dolan stated that the matter had been placed in the hands of their attorney, and it was probable that the miners' officials would go into court and ask for an injunction restraining the deputies. Said he: "They have no right to compel any man to go to work, and we will not stand it. I have in my pocket the names of many of the men who were treated in this manner, but prefer not to give them now for fear the men will suffer."

The coal company discovered a new sort of missionary work among its employees Friday. Wives of many of the campers are in the field now. They have been arriving for several days, until now there are about twenty of them scattered about through the Plum, Sandy and Turtle Creek settlements. The women are from McDonald, Carnegie and Wheeling divisions and do missionary work among the miners' wives. They have access to the workmen's houses, but the men are denied this. Deputies are stationed all along the property line with instructions not to allow a solitary man to pass into the houses. The campers claim that the effect of the female missionary work will be apparent in a day or two.

VALUABLE INVENTION

Lost to the Commercial World by the Death of the Inventor.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—A special to the World from New Haven, Conn., says: With the recent death at Naugatuck of Herbert E. Fowler, there has been lost the secret of an invention that promised to be of great value to the commercial world. It was a process for making an electrical deposit of copper from a solution upon wood or any other rigid or semi-rigid substance. This process was made possible by coating the substance that was to be copper plated with a liquid preparation, the secret of which was known only to Mr. Fowler. Every means had been used to induce him to patent the invention, but he declined, fearing he might lose the use of it.

A Chicago company was recently formed which offered to take up manufacturing with the copper deposit extensively, but conditioned their offer upon the patenting of the invention. Their proposition was sent to Mr. Fowler, but before an agreement had been reached the inventor died.

MILLIONS IN IT.

Papers Being Drawn Up in a Suit Involving

Valuable Mining Stock in Gold Mines in Nevada.

Dennis B. Harris, a Promoter, the Plaintiff, and the Gold Creek Nevada Mining Co., Henry J. Mayhew, Walter Church and J. D. Robertson Defendants.

NEW YORK, Aug. 7.—Ker & Thomas, lawyers here, Friday announced that they had drawn up papers in a suit involving millions of dollars invested in Nevada gold mines. Dennis B. Harris, a promoter, is the plaintiff, and the Gold Creek Nevada Mining Co., Henry J. Mayhew, of Denver, Col., Walter Church, of Boston, and Joseph D. Robertson, of this city, are the defendants.

The plaintiff recites that the Gold Creek (Nev.) Mining Co., of which Mr. Robertson is president, was formed in 1890, with a capital stock of $3,000,000. It purchased the property of the Island Mountain Co. and at once issued $1,000,000 worth of stock for working purposes. Of this amount he says $800,000 shares were sold for $800,000, and most of this money was spent in developing the property.

The company, according to Harris, then organized the Gold Creek, Nevada, Consolidated Lode Co., with a capital of $10,000,000, and the Gold Creek Nevada, Town Site Co., with a stock of $2,000,000. Harris claims he is the original promoter of these companies, and it was agreed, he says, that he should have for his trouble 359,375 shares of stock, worth according to his figures, $1,750,575. He asserts that the capitalists interested in the scheme took his advice and labor up to a certain point and then quietly froze him out.

Harris further alleges that a deal is now being negotiated with an English syndicate, represented by J. McCumings, an engineer, of Lower Broadway, for the sale of all the companies for $15,000,000. He also says that the engineer has just returned from an examination of the property, and will recommend to his principals that they buy it.
